Lovely, gracious and charming to all who met her, Ivanka Trump clearly took her position as Honorary Chairman seriously when she joined Artistic Director Stephanie Ansin in hosting The PlayGround Theatre's recent Tea at the Ritz at The Ritz-Carlton, South Beach. The tea simultaneously celebrated the 5th Anniversary of the acclaimed theatre for young people and benefitted the company's Education and Outreach Program. Passionate about the youth of our country, Trump took the stage to encourage nearly 300 guests to support The PlayGround's mission to present live theatre to a community that may not otherwise experience it.
